DECISION RESTS WITH CZECHOSLOVAKIA

System Of Economic Assistance Proposed In Anglo-French Plan

M. Blum Dissatisfied With Course Of Events

Paris, September 20.
THE DECISION NOW RESTS WITH CZECHOSLOVAKIA, writes "Petit Parisien" to-day, adding that it is difficult to foresee what that decision will be. The paper says that there is no doubt that when the Prague Government is in possession of all the details it will come to a better appreciation of Mr. Chamberlain's initiative.
Nobody doubts, say the paper, that the sacrifices which Czechoslovakia asked to bear are enormous, but the paper asks whether the grave dangers menacing Prague are not much greater still.

POLISH GUARDS ON FRONTIER INCREASED

Warsaw, Sept. 20.
Polish frontier guards on the Czechoslovakia border have been increased, according to official circles.
This step has been taken on alleged military movements in Czechoslovakia and owing to the large number of deserters arriving in Poland from Czechoslovakia.—Reuter Bulletin.

The paper, which is often the mouthpiece of the Quai d'Orsay, says that the London plan also proposes the creation of a system of economic assistance in order to compensate Czechoslovakia for eventual loss of industrial and mining values and to enable her to place her national defence on a new basis. It would thus appear, says the paper, that the negotiators in London did not lose sight of the interests of Czechoslovakia.

M. Daladier and M. Bonnet had—conscious of their duty towards Prague—energetically insisted on Czechoslovakia being given a new statute in order to guarantee her security after eventual amputation of certain parts of her territory.

NOT EXPECTED
The paper points out that England hitherto is only prepared to guarantee Belgium, and that less than one year ago nobody expected that England would extend her guarantee to Central Europe. The importance of this unexpected development should not be underestimated in Prague.

M. Leon Blum, in "Populaire," manifests dissatisfaction with the course events have taken. The ex-Prime Minister writes that whereas Mr. Chamberlain travelled to Berchtesgaden in order to negotiate for a just and honourable agreement he returned with Hitler's own proposals.

M. Blum concludes that a war has been probably averted but under conditions which the writer, who had always struggled for peace, could not approve.—Transocean.

Prague, Sept. 20.
The Czech Cabinet met again this morning at 11 o'clock under the presidency of Dr. Edward Benes, following meetings lasting seven hours and which ended early in the morning.

It is understood that the Cabinet is considering a Note embodying a reply to the Anglo-French proposals.

The Left Wing press declares that no Czechoslovak Government can accept the "humiliating Anglo-French proposals" and say, in effect, "Let us rather have war and go down fighting."—Reuter

MARTIAL LAW EXTENDED
Prague, Sept. 20.
Martial law has been extended to three further districts making 19 in all.

CHINESE PROTEST AGAINST SPEECH BY GOEBBELS

Berlin, Sept. 20.
The Chinese Charge d'Affaires visited the Under Secretary of State at the German Foreign Office to protest against a certain portion of the speech by Dr. Goebbels at the recent Nuremberg Congress in which, referring to the opening of dykes of the Yellow River, he said, "These Chinese crimes are much more inhuman than the Japanese air bombardments."

The new Chinese Ambassador Mr. Chen Chieh is due here tomorrow.—Reuter.

GUERRILLAS RECAPTURE HSI AKIASHAN

Nanchang, September 20.
Chinese guerrillas, operating in the vicinity of Kuling, opened a sudden attack on Hsiakiashan, south of Kuling, on the afternoon of September 17 and recaptured the place after several hours' fierce fighting.
More than eighty Japanese troops guarding the hillside positions were completely routed and a score of them were killed. A light machine-gun, together with 1,000 rounds of ammunition and many rifles, were seized by the Chinese.—Central News.

SETTLEMENT OF CHAMBERLAIN TO TRAVEL BY SEA

Tokyo Rejects Geneva Invitation
Tokyo, Sept. 20.
It is learned that Japan will reject the invitation to settle the Sino-Japanese dispute under Article 17 of the League Covenant, received by Tokyo from Geneva this morning.

The invitation will be considered by the Cabinet tomorrow after which a statement explaining Japan's attitude, is expected to be issued.
Official quarters point out that Japan has consistently opposed the League's interference in the China incident and say that "any unilateral recommendation on the part of the Council will in no way contribute to the settlement of the affair."

Moreover they profess scepticism as to whether Article 16, whereby the League would have recourse to sanctions against Japan for rejection of Geneva's invitation, could be actually implemented.—Reuter.

It is believed that Lord Halifax and a number of high officials of the Foreign Office will this time accompany the Prime Minister. Conversation are, in any case, scheduled to commence on Wednesday and it is thought likely that they will last a few days.

It is considered probable that both Houses of Parliament will meet early next week to hear the declaration by the British Government on its policy.
Political circles here generally regard the coming meeting between Mr. Chamberlain and Herr Hitler as decisive for the clarification of the situation which has arisen in consequence of the Czechoslovak crisis.—Transocean.

CHINESE RECAPTURE TANGSHAN

Chengchow, Sept. 20.
After several days' fighting, Chinese troops broke into Tangshan, 47 miles west of Hsuehchow on the Lunghai Railway, and recaptured the town on Sunday morning.
The Chinese are now pushing eastward to Hsuehchow along the railway line.
The Japanese at Fenghsien and Peishan, northeast of Tangshan, have been "mopped up" by the Chinese.—Central News.

From dawn to dusk the guerrillas fought a sanguinary battle with the Japanese garrison troops at the south-eastern and south-western outskirts of Nanking.
The Japanese military headquarters at Nanking is strongly guarded by several companies of military gendarmes for fear of being attacked by Chinese plain clothes-men who are reported to be rampant in the city.—International.

ALLEGED GRATUITY DEMAND

An Indian police constable appeared before Mr. Barnett at the Kowloon Court yesterday, charged with receiving a gratuity of $3 from Lo Chak-yan, accountant of the Ng Tsau Dairy Co.
The constable is Dalip Singh, P. C. B649, aged 27. It is alleged that he demanded a gratuity of $5 from a dairy delivery-boy, Lau Tim-fuk, aged 16, accusing the latter of carrying more cans of milk on his bicycle than permitted by regulations.

Det. Sub-Ins. C. Mottram prosecuted.
It appears that as the delivery-boy was riding down Waterloo Road, in the vicinity of No. 4 railway bridge, at 4 a.m. on August 31, an Indian police constable flashed a torch in his face, causing the boy to fall off the bicycle. He lost consciousness and suffered several bruises.

China Will Fight On With Or Without Aid, Declares General Chen

Absence Of Foreign Help Will Serve To Steel Determination

Hankow, September 20.
"WITH OR WITHOUT INTERNATIONAL AID, China will fight on," declared General Chen Cheng, Director of the Political Board of the National Military Council, and concurrently Chairman of the Hupeh Provincial Government, in an interview.

ASKED WHETHER HE WAS CONFIDENT THAT China's armed resistance will result in final victory General Chen replied:—"Our fundamental national policy is to seek salvation by our own strength." Our strategy dictates a protracted war of attrition. After the bitter struggle for more than a year, it may be said that the foundation for our ultimate victory has been gradually built up.

"The Japanese design to advance on Wuhan has met with stubborn resistance put up by both our soldiers and people. The Tokyo delusion of seizing Wuhan by the end of August is now completely exploded. We firmly believe that the Japanese will encounter greater military difficulties in the future which may bring about their military collapse," he continued.

TO STEEL DETERMINATION
"Our complete conviction that we will win the ultimate victory will enable us to resist to the end. With or without international aid we will fight on," he said.

"The absence of foreign assistance will serve to steel our determination to seek salvation by our own strength and dispel all thought of relying on outside aid, thereby erecting the foundation of national reconstruction through armed resistance."

FAVOURABLE POSITION
"Compared with Soviet Russia, in 1917, China is in a more favourable position. First, the majority of the nations of the world are sympathetic towards China. Secondly, the number of traitors is very small," added General Chen. "The Chinese people in the occupied areas are continuously supporting the National Government and are determined to continue the war of resistance."

"Guerrilla warfare has proved to be too difficult a problem for the Japanese to cope with. Thirdly, the influence of the traitors is small, they can not give much assistance to the Japanese."

"At present, China is solidly united against Japanese aggression. The Chinese people are carrying on the war under the supreme leadership of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. China's position is far better than that of the United States during the days of her revolution. We will never become pessimistic in face of the present difficulties, but we are confident of our ultimate victory," concluded General Chen.—Central News.

JAPANESE LOSE 70,000 SOLDIERS IN ONE MONTH

Hankow, Sept. 20.
Military operations along the whole line of the Kiang-Nanchang railway ended abruptly to-day.

The toll in this sector is the result of the terrible losses suffered by the Japanese forces during the past few days and, according to General Chen Cheng, at least 70,000 were killed during this month.

During continuous fighting for the last ten days, the Chinese claim to have recovered Mahweiling although official confirmation is lacking.—International.

Her Majesty added that the strengthening of the military efficiency of the country was indispensable and announced that bigger sacrifices were necessary in the coming year to provide funds for defence and unemployment.

Special steps would be taken for the defence of the colonies and the East Indies.—Reuter.

STANLEY HEROIN RAID SEQUEL
"It is surprising that you five can stand up and face the world, engaged as you are in one of the wickedest trades in which man can engage. Lindell, at the Criminal Sessions when he sentenced Chan Yee, woman, and four men Lung See, Li Man-ke, Chan Cheng-ling and Yu Kai-ming who were charged with the possession of 35,000 heroin pills, and red mass sufficient to make a further 50,000 pills to imprisonment totalling 16 years in all.
Second defendant, Lung See, was sentenced to four years' imprisonment, while the other four were each sentenced to three years' hard labour.

FEWER MOON CAKES TO BE EATEN

As the money devoted every year for the celebration of the Lunar Moon Festival always reaches considerable amount, the people in Hongkong consider it improper to indulge in this wasteful observance during the time of emergency, says the "Industrial and Commercial Daily News".
The public are exhorted to refrain from consuming too many "moon cakes" and fruits or to use too many paper lanterns this year as they have been accustomed to on such occasions in the past. It is understood that the lunar cake dealers and the paper lantern dealers have expressed their preparedness to sacrifice their own interests for the good of the country.
Paper lantern dealers will not send their annual gifts of lanterns to customers this year, and money meant for that purpose will be donated to the "Offer Gold Fund."

TRIAD SOCIETY PREMISES RAIDED BY POLICE

23 Men Arrested: Concert In Progress Claimed

An alarming statement that there has been an "anti-social movement" going on in the Colony, especially in the Wanchai district, victimising hawkers and people of lower walks of life, was made at the Central Court yesterday by Detective Sub-Inspector W. N. Dinkin, at the conclusion of a case in which 23 men were charged with being members of an unlawful society, before Mr. Butters.

The unlawful society concerned was the Triad Society, "with which," said Inspector Dinkin, "the police are, and have been having lots of trouble."

Members of this Triad Society were known to have been threatening people to join their organisation and collect subscriptions, demanding money from hawkers, and assaulting them if such demands were met with refusal.

"They consist of quite a number of dockyard coolies and the society is but a gathering of a bunch of rascals," said Inspector Dinkin.

RAID BY POLICE

The 23 defendants were arrested on August 20 when a party of police officers, headed by Inspector Dinkin, raided the premises at No. 74 Lockhart Road, third floor, on information received. The members comprised many unemployed men, car cleaners, a lift boy and a number of dockyard coolies.

When the police entered the premises, there was a band of Chinese musicians and a few sing-song girls giving a concert. There was a banquet in progress in celebration of some special occasion, for which invitations had been sent to members of the society.

TRIED TO GET REVENGE

Gave Police False Information

In an alleged attempt to get a sanitary coolie into trouble by giving false information to the police, an unemployed, Tse Kau, aged 19, appeared before Mr. Butters at the Central Court yesterday and was given three months' imprisonment, with the alternative of a fine of $100.

Tse was also charged with the theft of a wallet containing $12 and a wrist watch on September 18, for which he was sentenced to three months' hard labour without the option.

Inspector A. Wright said that the articles were stolen from a bathing tent in Big Wave Bay. Later in the day Tse telephoned the police station and said he knew who was the thief. A detective was sent out with him to Shek-O and Yung Shoi, the sanitary coolie, was pointed out as the man who had committed the theft. Tse also told the detective the watch was in the wallet. The detective was suspicious about this, and when questioned at the station the next morning, defendant admitted the theft himself. Defendant had a grudge against Yung, and was trying to get his revenge.

THIEF CAUGHT BY CYCLIST

Chan Yun, 34, was convicted by Mr. Barnett at the Kowloon Court yesterday on a charge of larceny of a bag from a woman, Lai Ping-chi, 22, at Prince Edward Road on Monday.

Defendant was alleged to have snatched the bag and attempted to run away across a vegetable field.

A cyclist, Li Nam, 24, pedalled after him and ran him down. Defendant was remanded 48 hours for medical examination to determine if he is fit for a caning.

KOWLOON CHESS CLUB

Annual Report Published

THE KOWLOON CHESS CLUB are holding their annual general meeting at the Peninsula Hotel on Tuesday, September 27, at 6 p.m.

The annual report, which has already been circulated to the members, states:—

COLONY'S CHAMPIONSHIP

In the Open Colony's Chess Championship seven players competed for the title, five being members of our Club and two from the Victoria Chess Club. Mr. D. E. de Carvalho, champion of 1931, was the winner without sustaining a single defeat, though held to a draw twice. He is to be congratulated on his fine play and for regaining the Trophy.

For the second position Messrs. V. Rush and K. M. A. Barnett tied with 3 points out of 12. The Committee declared both of them runner-ups as it was impossible to play off the draw, due to the departure of Mr. Rush from the Colony.

It will be recalled that since last year both Chess Clubs collaborated in the organisation of this tournament, having formed a Joint Committee of representatives of the two Clubs. The final scores are as follows:—

	P.	W.	D.	L.	Pts.
D. E. de Carvalho	12	10	2	-	11

For the third time in the last two years we have changed headquarters: on February 8th we moved to the Peninsula Hotel, being accommodated in the Reading Room on the 1st floor. Our new premises are most attractive and ideal for playing chess, because, apart from superb comfort, absolute quiet reigns. The Committee wishes to express its gratitude to our President, Rev. G. E. S. Updell, and the management of the Peninsula Hotel in connection with this happy arrangement.

For failing to report to the police a collision with a motor bus at Nathan Road on the afternoon of August 29, A. H. Delacourt was fined $5 at the Kowloon Court yesterday by Mr. Macfadyen.

For failing to obey a "stop" signal while riding bicycle in Castle Peak Road on the afternoon of August 20, S. F. Rozario was fined $7.

EUROPEANS FINED

Miss A. R. L. Dowbiggin was fined $5 by Mr. Butters at the Central Court yesterday for causing an obstruction by parking her car outside Kayamally Building, Queen's Road Central on September 6.

A similar fine was imposed on B. A. Batemen, of Jardine, Matheson and Company, for leaving his car unattended in Connaught Road Central on September 6.

Pleading guilty through a letter, Miss B. M. Elcheno, of Conduit Road, was fined $15 for driving at an excessive speed of 38 miles per hour in Lockhart Road on September 7.

COUNTERFEIT COINS IN PARCEL

Coolie Sent To Sessions

Appearing on remand before Mr. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday on a charge of possession of 1,200 counterfeit Hong Kong ten cent pieces Chan Yin, 19, coolie, was committed to the Criminal Sessions.

Detective-Sergeant Ritchie was in charge of the prosecution, and it was stated that defendant was arrested by a constable in Connaught Road on August 9.

The coins were found strapped to his legs and stomach.

In the witness box, defendant said that he was asked to carry a parcel to the Asia Hotel by a man. He did not know the contents of the parcel were counterfeit coins.

Cross-examined by Sergeant Ritchie, defendant said he was asked to conceal the parcel.

SERVICE NEWS

ROYAL NAVY

NEW POST AT SINGAPORE
Concurrently with the raising of the status of the officer in command of the Singapore base to that of a commodore of the first class, on the appointment of Captain T. B. Drew, O.B.E., to the command, a captain, R.N., has been nominated for the first time as chief staff officer to the commodore.

Captain P. C. W. Manwaring late in command of the 1st Minesweeping Flotilla at Portlano, has been appointed to the new post, and will also command the base ship "Terror".

Captain Manwaring has had three periods of service on the China Station, as sub-lieutenant of the Newcastle in 1913-14, lieutenant in command of the gunboat Moorhen in 1919-21, and commander in command of the gunboat Cockchafer in 1928-30.

During the War he was in the Grand Fleet in the battleship Benbow and the cruiser Chanion.

THE TRAINING SERVICE

During the current year the average number of officers and men under training at the principal shore establishments at the naval ports has risen to over 10,000. The largest number at any one establishment is at Shotley, where on an average 2,100 boys are being trained.

H.M.S. Caledonia at Rosyth, formerly the liner Maestric, comes next with 1,900, and the Mechanical Training Establishment at Chatham has 4,100. In the three gunnery schools there are 950 officers and men training at Portsmouth, and 400 each at Chatham and Devonport.

H.M.S. St. Vincent, boys' training establishment at Gosport, has 850, and H.M.S. Wildfire, the new seamen's training school at Sheerness, 550. In the two torpedo schools there are 800 in H.M.S. Vernon, Portsmouth, and 600 in H.M.S. Deane, Devonport.

The average cost per head of the numbers under training varies considerably, from 270 per annum in the Mechanical Training Establishment, Devonport, to 257½ per annum in the Navigation School Portsmouth, where there are only about 40 officers and men under tuition.

COMMODORE, SOUTH AMERICAN DIVISION

Some confusion having occurred between correspondence intended for the Commander-in-Chief, America and West Indies Station, and the Commodore of the South American Division it that station, the Admiralty direct that correspondence for the latter is in future to be addressed:—"The Commodore Commanding South American Division, care of G.P.O., London," without mentioning the name of the station.

LOWER-DECK CANDIDATES FOR COMMISSIONS

Lower-deck candidates for commissions in the executive branch, on being selected for the special course of training, which lasts for approximately eight months, have all been sent to the same ship for the course, in which an officer is borne in addition to the ordinary complement for their training.

The Ramilies in the Home Fleet has up to now been the ship selected, but as she is shortly being transferred to the Mediterranean Fleet the duty is now to be taken over by the Resolution.

EMPLOYMENT IN POLICE FORCE

The Chief Constable of Oxford has announced that he is ready to consider applications for employment in the Oxford Police from Special Service ratings who leave the Navy and transfer to the Royal Fleet Reserve at the age of 25, provided that they apply within six months of their discharge.

COLOURS CARRIED AT WATERLOO

Return To Cameron Highlanders

Colours believed to have been carried by the Cameron Highlanders at the Battle of Waterloo were paraded at Inverness recently before being laid up in the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders' depot.

The Colours have been presented to the regiment, of which the King is Colonel-in-Chief, by Major Archibald J. A. Douglas, whose great-grandfather, General Sir Neil Douglas, commanded the Camerons at Waterloo. They have been in the possession of the Douglas family since 1823, having been presented to Lady Douglas by the regiment.

At the ceremonial parade at the depot, Major-General Neville J. G. Cameron, Colonel of the regiment, in the presence of a great gathering of former Camerons, inspected the depot, drawn up in line under the command of Major G. F. Miller, M.C., and presented good conduct and long service medals to C.S.M. H. E. Heggie and Private J. Sweeney, both of whom had 19 years' service.

The Colours, because of their age, were not carried on parade, but were enclosed in cases covered with the Cameron tartan at the saluting base, where an escort wearing the dress uniform of the regiment acted as the Colour party. The Royal Salute was played by the pipe and drum band, while civilians stood with uncovered heads.

A FAMILY TRADITION
In his address, Major-General Cameron explained that there was an element of doubt whether the old Cameron colours to which they were paying honour were the actual Colours carried at Waterloo.

The Colours carried by the 1st Battalion at the battle had been lent by the 2nd Battalion because their own new colours were not ready at the time.

It was not definitely known whether there was an exchange made again after battle, but in the Douglas family, in whose possession the Colours had been for over 100 years, there was a tradition that these were the actual Waterloo Colours, and this view has been supported by several regimental authorities. Personally, he felt convinced they were the Waterloo Colours.

The regiment was greatly indebted to Major Douglas, himself a Cameron officer, for the gift of the historic Colours. He belonged to a family which had an extraordinarily long and distinguished association with the regiment, an association which stirred the blood of any soldier.

The parade concluded with the depot marching past the Colours and their Colonel to the strain of the regimental march, "Pibroch of Donnull Dhu."

EMPIRE AIR BASE PROPOSAL

Portsmouth's New Scheme

Although it has been officially announced that Southampton Water is to remain the Empire air routes flying-base, a further scheme has been promoted to adapt Langstone Harbour, as a more suitable terminus.

Instead of the costly barrage scheme, a dredging proposal is put forward for Langstone. The barrage plan, fell through owing to the failure of the Air Ministry and the Portsmouth authorities to come to a financial agreement.

The new scheme is a private venture. Neither Government nor municipal financial assistance is asked for it.

It is proposed to dredge the approaches and entrance to the harbour to the extent necessary to give landing areas at all stages of the tide.

QUICKER TO LONDON

Langstone has the great advantage over Southampton Water of having a neighbouring big land aerodrome, and also of its position on the electrified Southern Railway, affording rapid transport to London.

In addition to the making by dredging of a base for flying boats, it is proposed to extend the runways of the land aerodrome in certain directions.

It is claimed that Langstone Harbour would afford easier approach and landing for flying boats. Although the Southampton air port has been in use for more than two years, pilots do not like it.

The approaches, when the wind is in certain directions, are not easy, and shipping is a complication. It has been stated that immediate improvements are to be carried out.

The new central offices of Imperial Airways at Victoria, now approaching completion, are close to the platforms for electric trains to and from the new station which it is proposed to build west of Portsmouth, and close to Langstone aerodrome.

"Flying Battleships" For Singapore

Courtesy use of the names "Terak", "Selangor", "Pahang", and "Negri Sembilan" will be permitted for four of the eight Short Sunderland "flying battleship" seaplanes which are ordered for the Royal Air Force marine unit based at Singapore. These names acknowledge the sum of £292,000 contributed towards the cost of these aircraft by the Sultans and peoples of the Malay States.

A fifth machine may in all probability be called "Johore" after the Sultan of Johore, who has been largely instrumental in effecting this patriotic and practical gesture towards the maintenance of vital defence services.

Six of the eight seaplanes are already in the Far East and in service. Seventh machine is due to leave England almost immediately and the last will follow shortly after. First Sunderland to go East set-up record times for various stages of the journey.

Pembroke to Gibraltar was made in 8 hours, averaging nearly 160 m.p.h. for a point-to-point journey of 1250 miles. Second stage, to Malta, was completed at 177 m.p.h. and third stage, to Alexandria at 181 m.p.h.

Further impressive speed records were obtained on the remaining stages of the flight East.

Indications are therefore available that the Sunderland has a considerable margin of speed superiority over the Short Empire flying-boat, which from which most of its basic design is derived.

The Empire flying-boat has a speed of more than 200 miles an hour. A reliable range of the Sunderland is believed to be in the neighbourhood of 3,000 miles.

£136,000 PEARL THEFT RECALLED

A 76-year-old man, who was sentenced at the Old Bailey in 1913 to seven years' penal servitude for his part in the theft of a £136,000 pearl necklace, appeared at Bow-street recently.

He is James Lockett, a communist agent, and with Edward Phillips, 72, a dealer in precious stones, he was sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment for loitering with intent to steal from women's handbags. They refused to give their addresses.

Both men were arrested by Scotland Yard detectives, who had watched them acting suspiciously in post offices.

The necklace, consisting of 61 pearls, was despatched by registered post from Paris in July, 1913, to a Hutton-garden merchant.

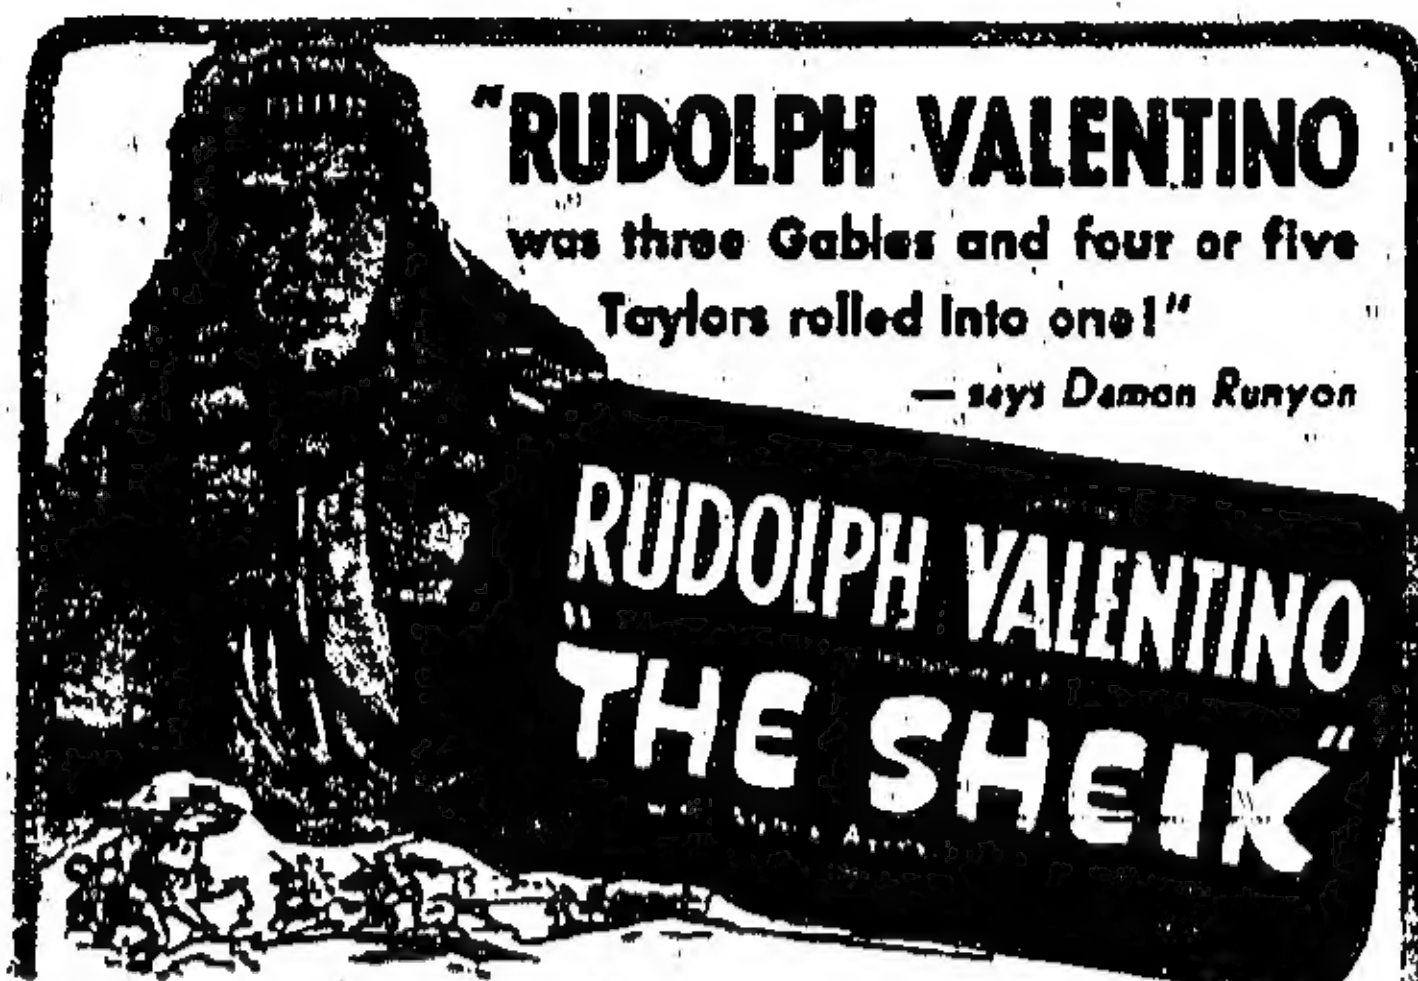

When the package arrived it was found to contain lumps of sugar. A reward of £10,000 was offered, and in September four men were arrested in London.

The magic phrase, "Words and music by Irving Berlin," proved to be the deciding factor in inducing Dick Powell to star in the Twentieth Century-Fox production, "On the Avenue," now at the Majestic Theatre.
When he heard that the Berlin melodies would play an important part in the new picture, his choice was practically made. Dick admitted frankly. He was all for doing the film before he even read the script or heard who was going to be in the cast with him.

NEW CHILD STAR

"Little Miss Roughneck," in the person of irresistible Edith Fellows, will provide the piece de resistance of this week's new pictures. It opens today at the King's Theatre.
Edith is the slight, dark haired 14-year-old dynamo who was the base of Melvyn Douglas' existence in "She Married Her Boss" and who sent Bing Crosby scurrying into romance in "Pennies From Heaven." As a result of her deft comic tramping in these films, she was rewarded with her first important featured role, that of the impossibly impertinent screen-struck child star, Foxine LaRue, in "Little Miss Roughneck."

Disease May Be Cured By Nicotine

After a year of research, scientists have disclosed that nicotine may hold the secret of recovery for victims of pellagra, the dreaded disease known as Lombardy leprosy or Italian leprosy, which afflicts thousands of agricultural workers in Southern Europe and America.

Chemists have succeeded in producing a drug known as nicotinic acid which is claimed to be of value in the treatment of pellagra.
After the successful laboratory tests it was demonstrated to the medical profession for the first time at an exhibition at Plymouth recently for doctors from all over the world who attended the British Medical Association's conference.

The new drug can be administered in tablet form, and is claimed to supply the vital deficiency in vitamin which is believed to be the cause of the disease in under-nourished people.

Pellagra which is colloquially known as rough-skin, was introduced into Italy and Spain about the middle of the eighteenth century.

It was found to be widespread through Southern Europe, Portugal, South-West France, and the Austrian Tyrol, and has more recently been discovered in the British Isles and in various parts of Africa, India, United States, and South America.

NEW PLAY FOR MERLE OBERON

Miss Elsa Maxwell To Write Scenario

Miss Elsa Maxwell, the American journalist and hostess, is to work for London film Productions.

Mr. Alexander Korda met her at a dinner she recently gave on the Riviera to the American Ambassador, and was so impressed with her personality that he gave her a contract. She is now writing a story for Merle Oberon, and will play a part in it.

Miss Maxwell has written two books and a play, and was recently commissioned by a New York publisher to write the life of the Countess Haugwitz-Reventlow.

She is noted as a giver of lavish and often eccentric parties. At one reception at the Waldorf-Astoria she had hogs charging across the dance floor, called by Ohio's champion hog-caller, and she is said to have invented the "murder" party, the buffet supper party, and the go-as-you-please-favourite-film-star party.

As a rebuke to late dinner guests she once sent around vehicles to pick them up in whatever state of dress they happened to be in at the moment.

She organised a party in Paris after the Armistice, went as Mr. Lloyd George and was mobbed in the streets. A guest came as Marat being murdered, and had to be hauled around the floor in a papermache bath while a young woman dressed as Charlotte Corday poised a knife above his neck. She has criticised the British aristocracy for want of courtesy in America, and made up a list of the 10 greatest gentlemen in the world in which only one Englishman appeared—Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson.

STAR DUST

Jeg Buell is planning another all-midget film, to follow "The Terror of Tiny Town." The new one will be about lumberjacks.

M-G-M have bought Four Cents a Word, an unproduced play by the author of Three Men on a Horse.

Groucho Marx's illness has been holding up production on "Room Service" for the second time.

Gene Hervey and Janet Beecher have joined the cast of Say It in French, the new title for "Sou-brette," starring Olympe Bradna.

After completing his part in "King of Alcatraz," with Lloyd Nolan, Porter Hall is leaving Paramount for freelancing and stage work.

Irma Dunne's next picture will be Love Affairs, produced and directed by Leo McCarey for Radio. It is due to go into production in the middle of September.

HONGKONG'S NEW WATER TAX

THAT A GENUINE COMPLAINT exists against the imposition of the new water tax in the Colony is clearly evident from the vigorous speeches of opposition made by the unofficial Chinese members at the meetings of the Legislative Council on Thursday last.

As usual, however, irrespective of the feelings of the unofficial members and no matter how powerful their speeches may be, whatever they may say in opposition to what apparently is a fixed policy of the Government is ruled out by the overwhelming number of official members, who have the final say in the matter.

The water tax is to be imposed, and twenty per cent. of the turnover is to be used as a military contribution, whether the people like it or not, in the usual totalitarian way our Colonies are administered. The people are not given a chance and any voice of protest which they may raise is absolutely futile.

Changes in the administration of the Colonial Office at Home are far too slow and complaints are not infrequent and already there is a clamour for its modernization. To return to the water tax. While the people are not given a chance and while protests are useless, Fate is not too kind with the law-makers. It is all very well to dun the public for water at 25 cents a thousand gallons but there is not an unlimited supply in the reservoirs and the authorities have already become nervous over the possibility of a shortage. Owing to the poor rainfall this year, it is very likely that, by next May, there will be a real shortage.

Restrictions naturally have had to be imposed and, unless something unforeseen occurs, further economies in the use of water will have to be imposed.

WITH THE SHORTAGE OF THE WATER SUPPLY, one is astonished that few, if any, steps are being taken to cope with the almost criminal carelessness that is going on in many parts of Hong-kong by letting water run to waste. Tap leakages are most frequent in many cases, taps are left open. The consequent result is that many gallons of precious water go to waste. Unless penalties, and heavy ones at that, are imposed, it is difficult to see how this waste can be avoided.

In this connexion, we would appeal to emigres from the interior and from north China to do their utmost to co-operate with the authorities. Hongkong is not the fortunate possessor of abundant reservoirs such as are to be found in Shanghai and Nanking and in some other places, hence it is absolutely necessary to conserve the local supply as much as possible. If our guests will look into this matter and give their co-operation to the Government here, they will only be doing a duty expected of them.

The Government may desire, with every good intention, to aid the poor by imposing the water tax, but there is no guarantee that the middle and poorer classes, those of the white collar class, whose expenses are limited and who must keep up appearances, will not be victimized by unscrupulous landlords, who will find in the increase an excuse to push up rents.

Restaurants and hotels likewise will probably follow suit by raising their charges, all of which will have a serious effect on the people who, instead of being benefited, will find themselves especially hard hit.

THE QUESTIONS NOW ARE, "Are the authorities going to raise the cost of water in the face of vigorous public opposition or are they prepared to stand a loss in the event of further drastic restrictions being imposed?"

One cannot help thinking that, with the very satisfactory state of the Colony's revenue at the present time, the proposed water tax revenue is totally unnecessary and there surely must be means other than this to raise funds for the military contribution to which reference has been made. Possibly it may be the prelude to further taxation, possibly a brand of Inland Revenue Tax may be attempted, but be this as it may, it will be imposing an unnecessary burden on an already overburdened populace.

CANTON EN FETE ON SEPTEMBER 18 AND SIAN AGAIN!

BY JACK CHEN

CHINA TO-DAY—SERIES III

September 18 used to be a "day of national humiliation," but to-night Canton is en fete. More than 150,000 people demonstrate in a five-mile-long column through the streets lined with crowds of watchers, cheering, singing, clapping, as the acrobats of the Chinese Boxing Association pyramid and jump, as the thunder of drums and shrill flutes beat time for gaily-coloured dragons that wag their heads... golden paper scales flashing in the light of thousands of bamboo torches. This carnival is also a political demonstration of tremendous significance.

MAINTENANCE HEARING

Allowance Granted By Magistrate

WIFE'S EVIDENCE

A separate maintenance allowance of $7 a week was granted by Mr. MacLennan at the Kowloon Court yesterday to Mrs. Maria Andreevna Snery-Syrk, of 9, Knutsford Terrace, first floor, this money to be paid by her husband, Peter Julius Syrk, from whom she is now legally separated. The address of Peter Julius Syrk, who is now in Saigon, was given as 34, Hankow Road.

The only witnesses called were a police officer, who had served the summons on defendant, and Mrs. Syrk.

Mrs. Syrk, in evidence, stated that she married Syrk in March, 1930, at the Consulate of the U. S. S. R. in Harbin. Both were and still are citizens of the U. S. S. R.

Her husband came to Hongkong in 1932, she following him here some eight months later, in 1933.

Towards the end of 1938 she began to have differences with her husband. These led to quarrels and to separation in February, 1937. Syrk left to live in his office, telling her to find lodgings for herself.

At the Kowloon Court, in Chambers, he promised to pay her a monthly allowance of $25. She had not demanded more, having obtained employment at the Knigs Institute at a monthly salary of $100.

ALLOWANCE STOPPED

In June this year, Syrk stopped paying this allowance. He claimed that he had no more money and that whatever money he had, he needed for the education of his son by a former marriage.

At the Kowloon Court, Syrk was advised by Mr. Barnett, in Chambers, that his duties to his wife should come before his duties to his son. He had promised to continue payments to his wife as soon as improvement in his business would permit him.

Meanwhile, she learned that he sold his business for $1,000. She lost her position in June, 1937, and was living on her savings and on money earned in private work as a qualified nurse. Syrk had not in any way contributed to her support since June 1 this year.

He only sent her a comprador's order for passage money to Shanghai where she did not wish to go.

TEN DOLLARS FOR A CUP OF OVALTINE

For three days last week Messrs. A. Wander Ltd. of London, the makers of Ovaltine, donated a large supply to be used in September at the Chung Sing Bathing Club for charity.

The cups of hot Ovaltine were used as an inducement to donors, and many paid $5 and $10 per cup. The proceedings on Friday night were enlivened by the presence of Mr. Barnes, the representative of Ovaltine throughout India and the Far East, who proved to be a great drawing card as an extempore auctioneer. The three nights' demonstrations were instrumental in raising over $200 for charity.

THE CITY WHICH in my eyes presented the greatest contrast to Canton in this respect is, strangely enough, Sian.

At a time when a new crisis approaches in the defence of Wuhan and still greater efforts are needed, it is natural that the weaker and meaner spirits are catalyzed at the opposite pole—which happens to be Sian. I spent eleven days there, enough to discover that near a dozen peoples' organizations had been closed; educational, cultural, youth and the invariable excuse was that they were not "recognized" by the local government, i.e., were not run directly by the local officials.

The local government was encumbered by many thoroughly inefficient executives who were unable to supply the necessary drive to run mass organizations and were unwilling that impetus be supplied by the people themselves. Thus, the spirit of Sian languished. Besides pure inefficiency, there

This is the Canton where, some years back, exploiter and exploited stood on opposite sides of the barricades of revolution. To-night ricksha coolies walk with ricksha owners. Squads of officials, stevedores, orphans, bank clerks, farmers, machine workers, newspaper editors, writers and newsmen march together. Gold beaters, wood-carvers, pancake makers and pig butchers carry lanterns and slogans. Then follow rank after rank of volunteers, partisan brigades of Kwangtung peasants armed with rifles, Peoples' Militia, boy's brigades, Propaganda Corps, and 40,000 organized women. In the light of a torch, I see Madame Sun Yat Sen and the Mother of the Guerrillas, Mrs. Chao.

The last time I saw Canton, it was being bombed three times a day. I saw scenes of horror the equal of any I saw at the front. And people asked pessimistically: "What next?"

Here was the answer: The swift growth of democratic defence organizations.

No such demonstration took place in all the preceding months of war. This parade follows close on the heels of the great one in support of the League of Nations. Among the marchers and the crowds was a spirit of elation, for Canton to-day stands among the leading centres of national democratic unity. Kwangtung is rapidly building up a volunteer movement that will give the Japanese lots to think about if they invade the province. And it was the fact of a real and bloody participation in the war that hastened this development.

"DEFEND SOUTH CHINA"

No fewer than 101 delegations took part in the demonstration, each carrying its illuminated sign. Many were organized by the Government and the Kuomintang. Many were Peoples' organizations that distributed leaflets, telling of their work and calling on the crowds to "Fight Back to Our Lost Lands! Defend South China! Defend Wuhan! Give utmost support to the Government and our Leader Chiang Kai-shek!"

Canton is one of hundreds of cities that have learnt that there is no rear in this war, and that every man, woman and child must be prepared for the enemy's attack. Canton had a terrible lesson, but it learnt well.

The city which in my eyes presented the greatest contrast to Canton in this respect is, strangely enough, Sian.

At a time when a new crisis approaches in the defence of Wuhan and still greater efforts are needed, it is natural that the weaker and meaner spirits are catalyzed at the opposite pole—which happens to be Sian. I spent eleven days there, enough to discover that near a dozen peoples' organizations had been closed; educational, cultural, youth and the invariable excuse was that they were not "recognized" by the local government, i.e., were not run directly by the local officials.

The local government was encumbered by many thoroughly inefficient executives who were unable to supply the necessary drive to run mass organizations and were unwilling that impetus be supplied by the people themselves. Thus, the spirit of Sian languished. Besides pure inefficiency, there were naturally political elements of doubtful character who sought to "capitalize on the situation by spreading tales that 'unity between the Kuomintang and the Communists is temporary.' A notorious Japanese agent and provocateur was reliably reported to be active in the city.

DEARTH OF CULTURAL LIFE

In this atmosphere there was an absolute dearth of cultural life, apart from third-rate American movies and old-style drama. Certainly I did not get the feeling that Sian was doing all it could to help win the war. The streets were clean; there was a fine bath house (the biggest in China) where one could spend hours washing; there was a fine Guest House and decorative ladies, but this did not improve the situation.

Sian naturally attracts attention. Overburdened with work though he is, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek showed his concern for the United Front in Sian by suspending a vituperative anti-unity magazine. Encouraged, the progressives go on with their work patiently. They seem anxious that news of Sian's troubles should not get abroad as this may "hurt the nation." They hope to "educate" the backward officials. They have complete faith in the Central Government.

Canton-Wuhan-Yunnan are to-day the basic cities of the country. The centre and the wings are strong. "Total democratic defence" is the slogan in vogue.

The main enemy thrust is on Wuhan, and the whole country is rallying to its defence. Peoples' defence is strongly organized in the North, and Canton is advancing rapidly. So Sian, by the pressure of events, will fall into line. Its backwardness in this respect is an extreme case, but one must take into consideration the hugeness of the task facing the Government. As observations from all over the country show, this includes the training of thousands of people for organizational work in the vast countryside and cities; organization of military units and training; organization of cultural, educational and social activities for the millions; organization of new industrial enterprises and co-operatives; mobilization of finance, etc., and in many places—such as Sian—before this work can be advanced, old corrupt officials and entrenched inefficients must be reformed or removed. This is no easy task. Unity has to be maintained. And yet many years growth of self-interest have entwined themselves in some departments and administrations like a parasitic vine.

A swift new forward movement, however, is evident. For it is in great struggles such as the defence of Wuhan that the lessons of unity are brought home sharply to all.

The next article in this series will appear in to-morrow's "Hongkong Daily Press."

were responsible for the organisation of the Safety Zone in Nanking during the hostilities.

Mr. Smythe informed those present that amidst the gathering was the Chairman of the Nanking Relief Committee in the person of Mr. J. M. Hansen.

FALL OF NANKING

For the first six weeks after the fall of Nanking, said Mr. Smythe, nobody was allowed to leave the city, nor were they permitted to send out any uncensored letters. Some foreigners left Nanking when the six weeks had lapsed, including the Chairman of the Committee who was "ordered" to proceed to Germany by the firm he was connected with. On his arrival in Germany he was imprisoned for two days for "relating his experiences in Nanking."

Some books had been published, said the speaker, by Europeans who had experienced during the fall of Nanking, and these books could now be procured. There really was nothing for him to say, concluded the speaker, for "various reasons," one of them being that Rotary International did not believe in discussing controversial topics.

REFUGEES CARED FOR

The International Relief Committee was still functioning in Nanking and thousands of refugees were being cared for, although no more fighting is going on. The recovery of Nanking was very, very slow and the Committee could not publish anything that was going on.

Mr. Smythe concluded by saying that he was bound for Chengtu.

SPEAKER INTRODUCED

Introducing the speaker of the day, Dr. Li said that Dr. Grey was a representative of the Euro-St. John Red Cross and New Zealand Red Cross Societies, and had just returned from the North where he rendered valuable services to the wounded and refugees.

Dr. Grey in a brief address said that at present, in Central China, there were two Red Cross Societies. These two were those which he represented. At the end of last year the people of New Zealand were hearing reports about Nanking and Shanghai and decided to contribute money to relieve the sufferings in China. As a result, a joint council was formed combining the St. John and New Zealand Red Cross Societies.

PROMPT RESPONSE

An appeal was issued and the reply was very prompt and encouraging. On the call for volunteers, the speaker responded and left New Zealand on January 11. He arrived in Hongkong and saw Mr. Alfred Morris, of the St. John Ambulance Brigade.

After a few days in Hongkong, Dr. Grey accompanied by Mr. Beddow, proceeded to Canton where they interviewed the medical authorities there. The speaker proceeded to Hankow together with Dr. Maxwell, the Secretary of the International Red Cross Society. On arrival in Hankow, the speaker met Dr. McClure who was in charge of the work in Honan province.

Dr. Grey mentioned that the International Red Cross Society of Central China worked in affiliation

ADMIRAL SEIZO KOBAYASHI

Formosa Governor Returns To Tokyo

Shanghai, Sept. 20.

Admiral Seizo Kobayashi, Governor of Formosa, has returned to Tokyo to make a report of the conditions on the island. Chinese here reported that the anti-war sentiment is prevalent among the Formosans, many of whom were drafted into the army and navy. It is reported that Admiral Kobayashi, who served under the late Admiral Togo in the Russo-Japanese war, mapped out several plans for the invasion of South China, but owing to the policy of General Ugaki, Foreign Minister, the plans have been temporarily shelved.—International.

with the Mission Hospitals. Dr. McClure took the speaker to Changchow, where, upon arrival, they saw the results of Japanese bombing.

Dr. Grey stayed in Changchow for three months and worked with the Italian Red Cross Society. Many wounded soldiers were admitted from surrounding military hospitals and the North, and were in need of immediate treatment. Another surgeon had, in the meantime, arrived in Hongkong appointed by the New Zealand Red Cross Society, on March 7.

CHANGCHOW BOMBED

Dr. Grey said that while he was in Changchow he assisted the League of Nations Red Cross Society for a short period, after which he left for Ichang.

In May he again went to Changchow shortly after the town had been very severely bombed, as a result of which the hospital there had to be transferred to the outskirts of the town where they had to carry on their work.

On June 9, word was received that the Japanese were about fifteen miles from the town, so the hospital had to move back to town. A Canadian missionary rendered a tremendous amount of work in the hospital.

DYKES BREACHED

Continuing, the speaker said that fortunately, the dykes of the Yellow River were in time destroyed and the Japanese were unable to reach Changchow.

As the amount of wounded soldiers became less, the work was concerned more or less with the flood refugees. The Magistrate of the town asked him (Dr. Grey) if he could do anything to relieve the sufferings of the flood victims, as a result of which the speaker proceeded to Hankow in order to raise funds.

Refugee camps were opened on July 5, and from this date to August 23, something in the region of 13,000 people had been cared for in the Camp. Work among the flood refugees was at times disheartening, said Dr. Grey, as they could not spend their time on individual cases, and it was not possible to admit many as should have been admitted. Those in immediate need were attended to chiefly.

Swedish Ship Boarded By Japanese

That while on a trip from Japan to Hongkong his ship was stopped and boarded by officers of a Japanese destroyer was revealed by Captain E.A. Brandt, captain of the Swedish East Asiatic Line's new passenger freighter, Ningpo, on arrival here yesterday.

According to Captain Brandt, the destroyer first tried to overtake his ship but, failing in this, they fired a shot across her bows, stopped her, boarded her, and subjected the captain to a series of questions.

When they were satisfied with the nationality and the nature of the cargo carried by the Ningpo, they left. Before doing so they asked Captain Brandt what report he would make to the naval authorities in Hongkong.

DR. R.B. JACKSON BOMBING OF CIVILIANS

Declared Illegal In Resolution

Geneva, Sept. 20. Captain Euan Wallace, Financial Secretary to the Treasury, on behalf of Britain, recommended that the League Assembly adopt a resolution declaring:—

firstly, that bombing of civilian populations was illegal; secondly, targets aimed at from the air must be legitimate objectives capable of identification; thirdly, that any attack on a legitimate objective must be made in such a manner that the civilian population in the neighbourhood will not be bombed through carelessness.

Captain Wallace said that humanitarian customs and its usages in war on land and sea, which has grown into an international law, has taken time to develop. The problem was to extend to aerial warfare the same humanitarian considerations.

Proposals for an embargo on the supply of planes and oil to Japan and the sending of a neutral commission to China for a general conference on aerial and gas warfare were made by the Chinese delegate.—Reuter.

Hongkong Chinese pharmacists will hold patriotic sale at East Bonham Road to-day and tomorrow and the money collected will be handed over to the Women's Comforting War Relief Association to be forwarded to the Central Government. Collection boxes will be opened in the presence of the public under the auspices of the Comforting Association.

LATE ARRANGEMENTS IN CRICKET INTERPORT

"New L.B.W." Fears We May Be Sending Skeleton Side Up To Play Shanghai

BY "NEW L.B.W."

THE FACT THAT arrangements for the cricket interport with Shanghai have, after all, been left till rather late was brought home to local enthusiasts on Saturday when the trial match which was to have taken place at the Indian Recreation Club was washed out.

It may be suggested that any criticism of the local authorities on this ground would be unnecessarily carping, as it was not till early last week that it was established as a certainty there would be an interport this year.

To that there is, I think, an obvious answer. If our rulers of cricket were as keen as they might be, they could have arranged at least two trials before the definite invitation came from Shanghai. Not that it might have been, I feel confident, that support would not have been wanting.

CHINESE ART
FOR EUROPEMr. Jack Chen To Take Collection

Early in October, Mr. Jack Chen, whose character sketches at the war front, which have been appearing in the "Hong Kong Daily Press," have won much favourable comment, is taking to Europe an Exhibition of Graphic Art, on behalf of the Chinese Federation of Artists. It is to be selected from the best work now being done in China both by Chinese and Western artists. Mr. Chen has just returned from a tour of the war areas and has brought with him a collection of posters, cartoons and paintings.

There are a number of fine artists practising in Hongkong, and Mr. Chen desires to add as many examples as possible of the best work of these artists to the collection which he is taking to Europe. Hongkong artists, irrespective of nationality, who wish to contribute some of their pictures to this exhibition are asked to write at once to Mr. Luis Chan, No. 1 Des Voeux Road.

It is hoped to hold in Hongkong, about October 1, an exhibition of the works selected.

THREE RIDING
MISHAPS

THREE ACCIDENTS featured the training at the Valley yesterday but fortunately none of them resulted in injury of a serious nature.

The first involved J.C.I. No. 53, a new 1938 Australian pony belonging to Mr. J. H. Jensen, when it threw its Russian riding boy near the 2 mile post and then ran back to the stable.

J.C.I. No. 47, another new Australian pony belonging to the "Eve" Stable, was the cause of its Russian riding boy being thrown. The pony and rider came down together, but beyond a scratch on the elbow the rider suffered no serious injury.

Mr. Chan, a novice jockey, took out Cuban Love, a 1938 China Subscription griffin, but after galloping the last quarter mile, the pony ran away with him. The rider was unable to stop the pony, and when nearing the 1 3/4 mile post he was thrown. He was shaken up, but was apparently none the worse for his experience.

SPORTS FLASHES

A. H. ISMAIL, of the Indian Recreation Club, who contemplated going in for the Harbour Swim this year has given up the idea. He has been greatly handicapped in his training owing to pressure of work.

IT IS UNDERSTOOD the Royal Scots are trying to run a cricket team this winter. They have a number of officers who are considered to be of "very good" standard.

W. H. COLLEDGE, it is understood, together with some other stalwarts, are getting up a cricket team to play on Sundays and holidays only. An excellent idea, Bill, good luck to you!

ERNE LAMBERT, the Club soccer and rugby player, has lately devoted much time to the Japanese art of self-defence, judo. A number of members of the Football Club have also taken it up.

STANLEY RAID

Mr. J. Whyatt said that defendant's place of activity was a remote spot on Stanley Peninsula. About 1 a.m. on August 12, a Chinese detective stationed at Stanley Station received information as a result of which he went to the Peninsula, accompanied by three informers. They came to a match which was very cleverly concealed. It was practically invisible from the sea and there was a large fishing net spread over the roof.

WORKING AT PILL MACHINE

The match was lit by six candles, and on walking inside the detective saw all the defendants sitting at a table. The woman was by some cooking pots, apparently boiling water.

Leung was working at a pill machine on which was some pink mass. Li was engaged in weighing some pink mass on a pair of scales. Chau was making pills on a machine, while Yiu was squeezing a quantity of the pink mass in his hands.

A drying cupboard and other paraphernalia were also in the room.

Chan Yee, the woman, in the witness-box, stated that she had been employed by Leung Sze, to cook for the other members of the match. She did not know what the pills were used for and when she inquired, one of them told her that it was for curing stomach pains while yet another told her that the pills were used for curing malaria.

TAKEN TO STANLEY

Third defendant, Li Man-lok, 19, stated that on August 16 he was taken to Stanley and introduced to Leung Sze who told him that he would be paid $12 monthly for making drugs. He did not know that that meant making red pills, but eventually when he discovered this fact, he informed Leung Sze of his desire to leave the place.

Chan Wing, a relative of Li, also gave evidence. Fifth defendant, Yu Kai-ming, said that as he needed money to go to his mother who was ill in the country he accepted employment from Leung Sze.

After submissions by Counsel, the jury retired for a period of ten minutes and returned a unanimous verdict of guilty against the first, third and fifth defendants. The second and fourth accused, respectively, had previously admitted the charge.
